A GREAT AWAKENING

The Mid-Week Sunday Meeting Attracts Very Many.

WORKERS DEEPLY INTERESTED

Schivera Found a Splendid Body of Men and Women from the Potteries of East Liverpool in Readiness to Greet Him in the Rink at Noon Today—Splendid Music.

Of course the rink was crowded last night. It would seem a strange thing were it otherwise, as the masses of East Liverpool have fallen completely in love with the blessed tidings of Jesus and his love, told in a manner which is so plain that even the average schoolboy can understand it, and yet in such a pleading and winsome way that the people never tire of hearing it. "Drive out sin and let Jesus come in," is the cry of the evangelist, and the way at once seems wide open. The people in the main body of the rink and in the galleries joined in with full voice in the song service, and the melody was such as to please the ear and gladden the heart.

The male quartette rendered "Shall you, Shall I?" Rev. Norris, of Mt. Washington, Allegheny, Pa., read the scripture lesson. Weeden sang as a solo, "Some day the silver cord will break," and you missed a rare treat when you failed to hear the volume of rich melody. Surely, God uses music as a helper in the salvation of souls, by breaking stony hearts under its magic influence. God bless the work.

"Isaiah 12 and 2d. Behold, God is my salvation. I will trust and not be afraid." This man had reached a place where he resolved to act; he meant business; no delay, no hesitation. "I will!" He determined to accept the Master—to accept salvation; he determined to trust fully, without the shadow of doubt or fear. This was his manly right; no matter about public opinion on the subject; no matter what people said; the pronoun "I" comes out sharp and firm. "I will!" I will go beyond dishonesty, beyond sin; it is the right and proper thing to do, and I will do it. He put up a monument in presence of Almighty God. He used principle; backed by determination.

"A young man realizes the necessity of an education in this world of hustle, bustle and business push, and he says to himself 'I will!' What's the natural result? He gets the education. Why? Because he means business, and he backs up his announcement by action, by determination, by the stern resolve to win out; he wills that nothing humanity can do will deter him from his resolve.

"A young man came to me who was afflicted with a bodily ailment and said: 'I have resolved to have an operation performed. I believe that certain eminent surgeons can do me good. I have resolved to test the matter. He followed out that resolve, was placed on the operating table, the operation was skillfully performed, and I next interviewed him in the hospital, and he told me that he was happy in the consciousness of becoming a man comparatively free from bodily ailment. He said 'I will,' backed the will with action, and received his reward.

"Men, just so it is with spiritual affairs. No man amounts to anything without principle, backed by determination, and this rule holds good in spiritual as well as worldly affairs.

"Look at this great mass of people surrounding me here tonight. What brings these great multitudes to the rink tonight? I'll tell you, friends. It is the spirit of God brings us here. God is doing all he can to have us act on this great issue of the salvation of immortal souls, to bring us to Jesus. The great trouble is that you won't act. You acknowledge that it is right, but you refuse to take action. True manhood and true womanhood should never hesitate to act along the line of truth and right. If a question has the stamp of right upon it, it should receive the sanction of all true men and women, without hesitation. Make this your resolve: 'Let others do as they may, or see fit; but, as for me, I'll settle the matter between God and myself. I won't act from the standpoint of mere feeling, as feeling may often mislead and misdirect me. I'll act from an absolute principle of right.'

"I went to a man in this rink last night, and he told me that he was not yet ready to give up sin and a sinful life. He had deliberately made up his mind to live a sinful and evil life. If he persists in that resolve, no power on earth or in heaven can save him from hell; he has said, 'I will live a sinful life.'

"A motherless girl, only 18 years of age, came to my mother's home for help, and my mother took her in. That poor, unfortunate girl, who had desired to live a pure and clean and virtuous life, said to my darling mother: 'I must make a confession to you, Mrs. Schivera. I am a ruined girl. I have no character. The man in whom I trusted led me astray. I am a motherless girl, and I had no one to warn and save me from the awful curse of my life. Oh, my God, Mrs. Schivera, I am a ruined girl, and even you will turn from me now.' My mother took that poor girl in her arms, and in kind and loving tones, told her that, from the bottom of her heart, she pitied her, and that she would act as a mother to her. 'My dear girl, don't dare say that I hate you and that I will desert you. You have been guilty of wrongdoing, as you yourself declare; but you are penitent and in need, and I shall not desert you, but will act as your mother and protector. That poor girl afterwards, in her hours of despondency, told my mother that there was nothing for her to live for, and that she had determined to take her own life. My mother, horrified, tried in every manner to dissuade her, and told her the result of such a course, watching her carefully in the meantime; but the poor girl had resolved to do the act; her shame was more than she could bear; she had said, 'I will,' and she carried the resolve into action. Oh, men and women of East Liverpool, the horror of it; the self destruction of a poor young girl, caused by the villainy and lust of a vile and licentious man. You tell me that there is no retribution, no punishment for the villain who misled that poor, motherless girl. Great God of infinite mercy, there must be hot punishment for the libertine and seducer.

from hell; he has said, 'I will live a sinful life.'

"Men, if you make up your mind to go to hell, go to hell you will, and you will go to that awful abode of torment and never-ending woe, simply because you have willed to go there; simply because you have chosen hell in preference to heaven.

"I looked at the eager voters at your primaries on Saturday last, and I noted how they had willed to vote for the candidate of their choice, and carried that will into execution, and I said to myself:

"Men, men of East Liverpool, you are all candidates; each man is voting for himself, and he cannot reach hell or heaven until he casts that vote. His decision will be one of two things: 'I will or I will not be a saved man.'

"We had a grand meeting in the pitney today. After it was over, a man whose breath was tainted with liquor came to me, seized my hand, fell on his knees and cried out: 'I will, I will. God helping me I will live a better life.' The tears of honest purpose were streaming from his eyes. I pray that heaven's gates opened to that penitent sinner; that the very angels of heaven may say: 'You've done the manly thing; you've said you would look to God for help, in the cry of I will, by God's help I will, and our God will help you when you call upon him in earnest.'

"A young man was here last night and I asked him if he would decide for Christ; he put me aside with a foolish laugh; seated alongside him was a giddy young girl, and when I put the same question to her, she in turn laughed at the idea. I said to them in kindness: 'My friends, it is nothing to laugh at the preacher; but oh what an awful thing it is for you to say to God, with a laugh like that, 'I will go to hell!' A little further on a man said to me: 'I will—tomorrow night, as I want to bring a friend with me.' Do the 'will' act for yourself, men; don't wait for anyone else, no matter how much you may love them. Thousands of men have said, as they left the rink: 'I will go to the saloon. I will go to the theater. I will go to the dance hall. I will go to the rum shop, wholesale or retail. I will lead a life of sin. I will act the part of a libertine. Men, men, God himself cannot save you if you persist in such a resolution. May my God, our God, have mercy on your souls.

"This man in our text exhibited absolute faith. 'I will trust. I will not try to help myself—to depend upon myself. I will trust God.' It was all up with him from a human standpoint; he amounted to nothing; so he let God do the work for him. He trusted God absolutely. He didn't say that he would try to trust him; he said 'I will trust him.' Men, if you trust God with all your hearts, he will forgive your sins. Rely upon God, men; trust him implicitly.

THE SALARY QUESTION

Is at Last Disposed of by the Council.

SEVERAL HEATED DISCUSSIONS

The Vehicle Ordinance Comes in for Some Consideration, and the Huston Road is Again Brought Up—Auditing Committee Appointed.

Council met in regular session last night at 7:55, with all members present, and held one of the longest and most interesting sessions known for some time.

After the minutes were read Clerk Hanley started to read the salary ordinance, but Mr. Purinton objected, and said they should take up the unfinished business in the regular order that they were left. Hanley then read the vehicle ordinance and Purinton offered several amendments, and the fun started. Marshall thought they should wait and have a special meeting for that alone, and Stewart said he did not know the provisions of the ordinance, as he had only heard it read in council. If he voted on it, it would be blindly. He moved they wait, but got no second. Purinton said the matter had been under consideration for a month, and there was no excuse for further delay. He moved the first amendment be adopted, and it was seconded by Peake. Marshall then asked for another reading, and Purinton read it. Marshall then started to tell about what an injustice it would be to gardeners who live outside of the city and sell their produce here, and Purinton interrupted him by saying that all gardeners were exempt. Stewart wanted to know why they were, and Purinton remarked: "Because the law says so; there is no necessity for taxing gardeners. There is a huckstering ordinance on the books now."

Stewart said he was opposed to liverymen paying $25, as lots of carriages were used more than livery rigs.

Purinton—Is it not a fact that Harrison Rinehart, John Rinehart and Sam Groves use the streets for excavating. Kent was also in favor of delay. Purinton said it was a reflection on the committee if they wasn't ready. Owen said they could lay it over and it could still take effect on May 1.

A vote was then taken on the amendment, and it was carried. Marshall, Owen and Stewart voting nay. The next amendment was read, and Stewart wanted two weeks and a copy of the ordinance. Purinton said it wasn't customary to peddle ordinances around. A vote was then taken. Owen left the side of the opposition, leaving Marshall and Stewart opposed. All through the amendments the vote stood six to two, and when they were finished, Purinton moved the ordinance be placed on its final passage. Stewart said the ordinance didn't include private vehicles and Purinton said it included every conveyance in the city. Owen said he didn't want to vote until everybody understood it. Marshall and Stewart didn't understand it, and Owen amended the motion by laying it over for two weeks, and hold a meeting in the meantime. The amendment then carried, Purinton, Peake and Challis voting nay.

Then there was a dispute about the legality of the amendment. Hanley called attention to the fact that the amendment was in direct conflict with the motion. It was finally decided that the amendment was a motion in itself and was in order. Purinton thought the idea of delay was to defeat the ordinance. As it was three weeks until the next council meeting, there was some more discussion and the time set for next Tuesday night.

The resolution to improve Huston road caused some more discussion. Mr. Stewart thought the board of improvements should have brought in a report, and tore them out, saying that they did the easy part of the work and left the hard part for council. Engineer George defended the board, and Marshall said: "I don't like to talk about this; it is like poking a pole cat with a 10 foot pole; we are not far enough away to keep from the odor." Engineer George said that if they recommended widening it, it would have gone back to council and commenced revolving, as it has for the past 10 years. The resolution was passed. Stewart and Peake voting nay. The resolution to relay sidewalks on Sixth street was passed and the salary ordinance appeared on the scene. Peake got up and said he wanted a copy of it, which action made Stewart angry, as he thought the member from the Fourth ward was poking fun at him, and he said: "Give him a copy." The amendments were read and Purinton moved that the first section of the enacting clause be stricken out, which would practically kill the ordinance. Purinton stated that he was against the ordinance, as it would be an increased burden on the taxpayers, and that council couldn't stop the state officers from getting fees, as the state law allows that. Stewart said: "Officers have been getting fees right under your noses when they didn't earn them." The mayor has told me of cases where he has fined people for technical violations, where they should not have been fined so heavily. This was done merely to get the fees out of them.

Purinton—Mr. Stewart seems to be looking after the lawbreakers' interests instead of the taxpayers.

Mr. Stewart was on his feet in an instant, and said: "You are mistaken," and Marshall was compelled to restore order. Purinton then said: "Mr. Stewart says this fee system is an incentive to fine innocents. He puts the mayor on his arm and at the same time brands him as a rogue, robbing his victims."

Stewart—Mr. Purinton as good as calls me a liar. Mr. Purinton has no regard for the truth. President Marshall again called for order and Stewart said: Well, if I have used half as much disrespectful language as Mr. Purinton has, I beg the council's pardon. Mr. Purinton makes me appear as defending the law breakers.

Mr. Purinton—I am sorry if my statements cast any reflections on the gentleman. If they did, I will retract my statements. A vote was taken on Mr. Purinton's motion and resulted in a tie vote, Challis, Owen, Marshall and Stewart voting nay. The vote was then taken on a final passage of the ordinance, and resulted in Stewart, Marshall and Owen voting for it and the rest of the members voting against it, and the salary ordinance is now a thing of the past.

A resolution was introduced by Peake to construct sidewalks on Eighth and Jethro streets, and was left in the hands of the street committee. The light bill was paid after two lights had been deducted therefrom. A communication was read from the water works trustees in regard to improvements, and the clerk was instructed to notify them of contemplated improvements. President then appointed several auditing committees, and called the attention of the permanent committees to the fact that it was necessary for them to give an estimate of the money they need for this year. A discussion then ensued about the police fund being empty, which is due to the fact that they had not done much business this year.

Purinton then made a motion that council adjourn to meet on next Tuesday evening. This was seconded by Owen and council adjourned at 10:15.

LISBON NEWS.

Happenings at the County Seat Today.

Special to the News Review.

Lisbon, March 25.—Judge Taylor gave a decree to Carl Bowman, of Salem, in the divorce action brought by him last month against his wife, Mary N. Bowman.

The courts authorized the removal of the $10,000 damage suit brought by Amelia Shawke against the Pennsylvania company, to the United States court at Cleveland.

James H. Headley, of East Liverpool, was made the defendant last evening in a divorce action filed by Belle Headley, the grounds being willful absence. She asks that her maiden name, Belle Coleman, be restored.

Mrs. Julia Armstrong, of Leetonia, was divorced from Charles F. Armstrong on the ground of drunkenness. Owing to Judge Smith being unable to return to the court next week, Judge Taylor will remain. The week's work will probably be assigned this evening.

COUNTERFEIT MONEY

Places a Young Lady in Rather an Embarrassing Position.

A few days since a young lady of this city received $3 in paper money from her employer that was afterward found to be counterfeit. The young lady made a journey to Pittsburg, and entering a store, made a few purchases, tendering the storekeeper the money her employer had paid her in payment for the articles received. The bogus quality of the bills was detected easily by the proprietor, and the young lady was placed in a queer predicament. She finally convinced those who at first thought they were being defrauded that she was entirely innocent of any intention to do wrong.

THEY WANTED TO FUSE

Two Very Much Disappointed Unwashed Prophets.

THEY LIKE PROHIBITIONISTS

The Two Would-Be Leaders Used All the Eloquence and Powers of Persuasion at Their Command, Humbling Themselves in the Dust as It Were, but All in Vain.

Republicans know that the average Democrat is a fierce fighter, and, like the heathen Chinese, "for ways that are dark and tricks which are vain," the Demmy politician is really "peculiar." He is also great on the combine, and this combination featured led to his downfall and humiliation on Saturday night last. He came to the conclusion, (there was two of him) that a combination of whisky and water would be a good thing, as he had tired somewhat of benzine straight, since the commencement of the evangelistic meetings, so he (two of 'em) concluded that, under existing circumstances, Democratic whisky and Prohibition aqua pura would coalesce and commingle to a nicety, and knock the Republican majority, usually controlling in East Liverpool, into smithereens. So this untiered and unwashed would-be leader, (two of 'em) assailed a Prohibition leader, and used every argument, pro and con, to induce a coalition of forces, but all in vain, despite pleading, protestations, promises, threats and cajolings, and the unwashed (two of 'em) are now the victims of misplaced confidence, and are in the depths of extravagant despondency.

Repentance is a fine thing, but it is too late for these two.

AN AGED LADY DEAD.

Expired Early This Morning From an Attack of Heart Disease.

Mrs. Mary Ann Burlingame, an aged, respected and well known resident of this city, suddenly expired at her home in Wucherer addition, about 5 o'clock this morning. Deceased arose and was walking about the house when her heart failed her, and she was conveyed to a couch and soon after died. A large family of sons and daughters are left to mourn her demise.

Mrs. Burlingame for a number of years has been a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and an earnest Christian lady. Services will be conducted at the church Friday morning by Rev. J. M. Huston, who is expected home by that time. The remains will be taken to Clarkson for interment. Mrs. Burlingame was 72 years of age.

STILL THEY COME.

The Mayor Has His Hands Full Dealing Out Justice.

Business in mayor's court has been on the jump for the past few days, and the chief executive of the city is kept busy arraigning offenders and violators of the law. Yesterday afternoon Sanford Neville became imbued with a spirit of fullness, that is, there were spirits in a bottle which were responsible for his fullness, and started out to embellish the town with bright adornments. He got stranded in the Diamond, and Officer Whan kindly condescended to call the patrol, and made it possible for Sanford to sojourn for a brief while in the narrow confines of a prison cell.

WILL RUN FOR OFFICE.

An East Liverpool Man a Candidate Across the River.

A. W. Stevenson, a well known young attorney of this city, has announced himself as a candidate for the nomination of prosecuting attorney of Hancock county, West Virginia, on the Republican ticket. Mr. Stevenson's home is in West Virginia, and he is at present a member of the Hancock county bar. He has always been identified with the Republican party, and is a prominent young attorney, having spent the past year associated with Judge Smith. The election will take place the 23d of May.

ONE SPORTSMAN'S VIEW.

He Thinks That Most Dogs are Poisoned by Eating Decayed Garbage.

In conversation with a well known sportsman the other day in regard to the apparent wholesale poisoning of dogs that has been going on, he said that, in his opinion, many of the canines die from eating decayed vegetation and refuse found on the streets and in garbage boxes. He thinks the idea that is prevalent that some person is making a practice of dealing out poison in places where it will do its deadly work, is an erroneous one. Nine-tenths of the poisoning cases he ascribes to this reason.

Stewart said he was opposed to liverymen paying $25, as lots of carriages were used more than livery rigs.

Purinton—Is it not a fact that Harrison Rinehart, John Rinehart and Sam Groves use the streets for excavating. Kent was also in favor of delay. Purinton said it was a reflection on the committee if they wasn't ready. Owen said they could lay it over and it could still take effect on May 1.

A vote was then taken on the amendment, and it was carried. Marshall, Owen and Stewart voting nay. The next amendment was read, and Stewart wanted two weeks and a copy of the ordinance. Purinton said it wasn't customary to peddle ordinances around. A vote was then taken. Owen left the side of the opposition, leaving Marshall and Stewart opposed. All through the amendments the vote stood six to two, and when they were finished, Purinton moved the ordinance be placed on its final passage. Stewart said the ordinance didn't include private vehicles and Purinton said it included every conveyance in the city. Owen said he didn't want to vote until everybody understood it. Marshall and Stewart didn't understand it, and Owen amended the motion by laying it over for two weeks, and hold a meeting in the meantime. The amendment then carried, Purinton, Peake and Challis voting nay.

Then there was a dispute about the legality of the amendment. Hanley called attention to the fact that the amendment was in direct conflict with the motion. It was finally decided that the amendment was a motion in itself and was in order. Purinton thought the idea of delay was to defeat the ordinance. As it was three weeks until the next council meeting, there was some more discussion and the time set for next Tuesday night.

The resolution to improve Huston road caused some more discussion. Mr. Stewart thought the board of improvements should have brought in a report, and tore them out, saying that they did the easy part of the work and left the hard part for council. Engineer George defended the board, and Marshall said: "I don't like to talk about this; it is like poking a pole cat with a 10 foot pole; we are not far enough away to keep from the odor." Engineer George said that if they recommended widening it, it would have gone back to council and commenced revolving, as it has for the past 10 years. The resolution was passed. Stewart and Peake voting nay. The resolution to relay sidewalks on Sixth street was passed and the salary ordinance appeared on the scene. Peake got up and said he wanted a copy of it, which action made Stewart angry, as he thought the member from the Fourth was poking fun at him, and he said: "Give him a copy." The amendments were read and Purinton moved that the first section of the enacting clause be stricken out, which would practically kill the ordinance. Purinton stated that he was against the ordinance, as it would be an increased burden on the taxpayers, and that council couldn't stop the state officers from getting fees, as the state law allows that. Stewart said: "Officers have been getting fees right under your noses when they didn't earn them. The mayor has told me of cases where he has fined people for technical violations, where they should not have been fined so heavily. This was done merely to get the fees out of them.

Purinton—Mr. Stewart seems to be looking after the lawbreakers' interests instead of the taxpayers.

Mr. Stewart was on his feet in an instant, and said: "You are mistaken," and Marshall was compelled to restore order. Purinton then said: "Mr. Stewart says this fee system is an incentive to fine innocents. He puts the mayor on his arm and at the same time brands him as a rogue, robbing his victims.

Stewart—Mr. Purinton as good as calls me a liar. Mr. Purinton has no regard for the truth. President Marshall again called for order and Stewart said: Well, if I have used half as much disrespectful language as Mr. Purinton has, I beg the council's pardon. Mr. Purinton makes me appear as defending the law breakers.

Mr. Purinton—I am sorry if my statements cast any reflections on the gentleman. If they did, I will retract my statements. A vote was taken on Mr. Purinton's motion and resulted in a tie vote, Challis, Owen, Marshall and Stewart voting nay. The vote was then taken on a final passage of the ordinance, and resulted in Stewart, Marshall and Owen voting for it and the rest of the members voting against it, and the salary ordinance is now a thing of the past.

A resolution was introduced by Peake to construct sidewalks on Eighth and Jethro streets, and was left in the hands of the street committee. The light bill was paid after two lights had been deducted therefrom. A communication was read from the water works trustees in regard to improvements, and the clerk was instructed to notify them of contemplated improvements. President then appointed several auditing committees, and called the attention of the permanent committees to the fact that it was necessary for them to give an estimate of the money they need for this year. A discussion then ensued about the police fund being empty, which is due to the fact that they had not done much business this year.

Purinton then made a motion that council adjourn to meet on next Tuesday evening. This was seconded by Owen and council adjourned at 10:15.

LISBON NEWS.

Happenings at the County Seat Today.

Special to the News Review.

LISBON, March 25.—Judge Taylor gave a decree to Carl Bowman, of Salem, in the divorce action brought by him last month against his wife, Mary N. Bowman.

The courts authorized the removal of the $10,000 damage suit brought by Amelia Shawke against the Pennsylvania company, to the United States court at Cleveland.

James H. Headley, of East Liverpool, was made the defendant last evening in a divorce action filed by Belle Headley, the grounds being willful absence. She asks that her maiden name, Belle Coleman, be restored.

Mrs. Julia Armstrong, of Leetonia, was divorced from Charles F. Armstrong on the ground of drunkenness.

Owing to Judge Smith being unable to return to the court next week, Judge Taylor will remain. The week's work will probably be assigned this evening.

COUNTERFEIT MONEY

Places a Young Lady in Rather an Embarrassing Position.

A few days since a young lady of this city received $3 in paper money from her employer that was afterward found to be counterfeit. The young lady made a journey to Pittsburg, and entering a store, made a few purchases, tendering the storekeeper the money her employer had paid her in payment for the articles received. The bogus quality of the bills was detected easily by the proprietor, and the young lady was placed in a queer predicament. She finally convinced those who at first thought they were being defrauded that she was entirely innocent of any intention to do wrong.

THEY WANTED TO FUSE

Two Very Much Disappointed Unwashed Prophets.

THEY LIKE PROHIBITIONISTS

The Two Would-Be Leaders Used All the Eloquence and Powers of Persuasion at Their Command, Humbling Themselves in the Dust as It Were, but All in Vain.

Republicans know that the average Democrat is a fierce fighter, and, like the heathen Chinee, "for ways that are dark and tricks which are vain," the Demmy politician is really "peculiar." He is also great on the combine, and this combination featured led to his downfall and humiliation on Saturday night last. He came to the conclusion, (there was two of him) that a combination of whisky and water would be a good thing, as he had tired somewhat of benzine straight, since the commencement of the evangelistic meetings, so he (two of 'em) concluded that, under existing circumstances, Democratic whisky and Prohibition aqua pura would coalesce and commingle to a nicety, and knock the Republican majority, usually controlling in East Liverpool, into smithereens. So this untitled and unwashed would-be leader, (two of 'em) assailed a Prohibition leader, and used every argument, pro and con, to induce a coalition of forces, but all in vain, despite pleading, protestations, promises, threats and cajolings, and the unwashed (two of 'em) are now the victims of misplaced confidence, and are in the depths of extravagant despondency.

AN AGED LADY DEAD.

Expired Early This Morning From an Attack of Heart Disease.

Mrs. Mary Ann Burlingame, an aged, respected and well known resident of this city, suddenly expired at her home in Wucherer addition, about 5 o'clock this morning. Deceased arose and was walking about the house when her heart failed her, and she was conveyed to a couch and soon after died. A large family of sons and daughters are left to mourn her demise.

Mrs. Burlingame for a number of years has been a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and an earnest Christian lady. Services will be conducted at the church Friday morning by Rev. J. M. Huston, who is expected home by that time. The remains will be taken to Clarkson for interment. Mrs. Burlingame was 72 years of age.

STILL THEY COME.

The Mayor Has His Hands Full Dealing Out Justice.

Business in mayor's court has been on the jump for the past few days, and the chief executive of the city is kept busy arraigning offenders and violators of the law. Yesterday afternoon Sanford Neville became imbued with a spirit of fullness, that is, there were spirits in a bottle which were responsible for his fullness, and started out to embellish the town with bright adornments. He got stranded in the Diamond, and Officer Whan kindly condescended to call the patrol, and made it possible for Sanford to sojourn for a brief while in the narrow confines of a prison cell.

WILL RUN FOR OFFICE.

An East Liverpool Man a Candidate Across the River.

A. W. Stevenson, a well known young attorney of this city, has announced himself as a candidate for the nomination of prosecuting attorney of Hancock county, West Virginia, on the Republican ticket. Mr. Stevenson's home is in West Virginia, and he is at present a member of the Hancock county bar. He has always been identified with the Republican party, and is a prominent young attorney, having spent the past year associated with Judge Smith. The election will take place the 23d of May.

ONE SPORTSMAN'S VIEW.

He Thinks That Most Dogs are Poisoned by Eating Decayed Garbage.

In conversation with a well known sportsman the other day in regard to the apparent wholesale poisoning of dogs that has been going on, he said that, in his opinion, many of the canines die from eating decayed vegetation and refuse found on the streets and in garbage boxes. He thinks the idea that is prevalent that some person is making a practice of dealing out poison in places where it will do its deadly work, is an erroneous one. Nine-tenths of the poisoning cases he ascribes to this reason.

SPRING CAPES.

Our stock is now complete in this department, and we wish you to call and see what we are showing and selling in Cloth, Silk and Velvet Capes at $5.00, $6.50, $9.00 and $12.00. The Velvet Cape has the lead. Ask to see our $5.00 number.

Separate Skirts.

We have them and are selling them freely. They are sellers because of their remarkable low price. Think of buying a nice black Skirt, lined throughout, for $1.98; a better one for $3.49, a real good one for $5.00, and something handsome from $5.00 to $10.00. That is the secret of their great popularity, and why we are selling so many.

Ladies' Wrappers.

Since we opened this department, Feb. 1st, we have received many compliments on the styles and general make-up of the goods, and especially on the prevailing low prices. At 98c up to $2.50 we can supply you with anything in this line.

Shirt Waists.

This is a line of goods that deserves, and a little later on will get this entire space, in which to sing forth their praises. We simply want to say here that already the boom is on and now is your time to pick up choice numbers. Prices from 50c to $1.50. New things arriving daily.

SOLID.

McKinley is solid in Minnesota. He will be solid at the convention, we sincerely hope, as he will make a president solid for home and home happiness and prosperity. Pennsylvania is in a hot factional fight over Quay, and he is not by any manner of means a favorite son.

THEY WOULD FUSE.

Two of the would-be leaders of the Democracy of East Liverpool made heroic efforts to fuse with the Prohibitionists on Saturday night last, in order to win against the Republicans. We can give the names of the unwashed. They pleaded piteously for a fusion, but were turned down in despair.

WHERE DID THEY COME FROM?

This query is bothering the mathematicians of East Liverpool, and the most clever of them are completely puzzled over the matter. We refer to the number of Republican voters in this city, as exemplified in the final count of the primaries of Saturday last. Will some Solomon in our midst elucidate the mystery?

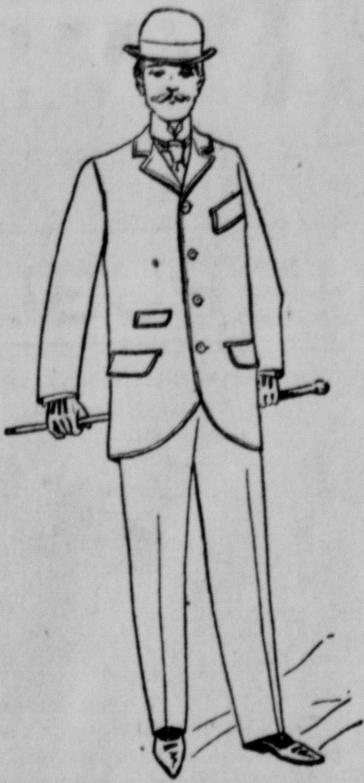

MILITARY.

If we are to have a military company in East Liverpool, then we should have an organization of which the city may be proud. It will require very earnest work on the part of the commanding officer to make a crack company out of the present organization, on account of the almost absolute lack of discipline which has held sway. If Captain Will Hill is composed of the right material, he can make such a company as will compare favorably with any in Ohio. He should have the earnest, hearty support of those who believe that a military arm is necessary in the body politic.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

You will note it at head of editorial column. Mayor Gilbert has served one term and will succeed himself, as he has given a clean administration, and, in so far as the management of this paper has knowledge, has adhered to his promises to enforce law and order in the city. He should be elected by a generous majority. Alfred J. Johnson, for city marshal, bears the reputation of being a clean man and a good citizen. The vote he received at the primaries is an indication of his popularity and the esteem in which he is held. We believe that he will make a first-class officer. Sherman T. Herbert succeeds a good man, and we believe that he will render full and complete satisfaction to his constituents. He is bright, keen, and an earnest worker. We wish him complete success. Frank E. Grosshans will attend to the duties of city solicitor in a manner which will convince his admirers that they made no mistake in voting for him. James N. Hanley succeeds himself. Jimmie is clever, courteous and agreeable, winning warm friends on every hand by strict attention to business, and ever having a courteous word for those who need attention on his part. He is worthy of a higher office at the hands of the people. Doctor Marshall will succeed himself as councilman from the First ward, and he will attend to his duties as he has in the past, fully, fearlessly and faithfully. J. W. Finley will make a good street commissioner, as he has had years of ripe experience in that department. The entire ticket is a good one, and will win out, with the exception of the three candidates who are battling under the "No Bible" banner. Personally, the News Review has not a particle of ill-feeling against John N. Taylor and Will L. Smith; they are all right politically; they are keen and shrewd business men; the manager of this paper would go out of his way to do them a favor. But they are all wrong on the Bible question, and this paper cannot and will not support them, further than placing their names on the ticket, which is the property of the Republican party. Mrs. Calhoun is a bright, intelligent lady; she is a very estimable woman; but she is under the "No Bible" banner. We sincerely hope and expect to see the entire Republican ticket elected, with the exception of Taylor, Smith and Mrs. Calhoun, whom we shall do our utmost to defeat, believing duty to God and His word paramount to every other claim.

"Perhaps you would not think so, out a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold. There are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one, get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Doctor Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs, aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Many persons who are unable to drink coffee that has been boiled or made by putting the coffee directly in boiling water and cooking at or above the boiling point for a certain number of minutes are able to drink without any disagreeable consequences either present or future coffee made by percolation—that is, by inclosing the coffee in a bag of some kind or in a wire gauze strainer and pouring the boiling water upon it. This method of coffee making should always be used in households where the members breakfast at different hours, and where only one pot of coffee is made. In France, where chicory is often added to the coffee, percolated or "drip" coffee that is quite strong is often made and tightly bottled or sealed so that its aroma cannot escape and kept in a cool place for several days. As it is wanted it is heated very hot and served with hot milk, and, if you want it absolutely perfect, heat your cup also. Percolated coffee is considered more economical than that boiled.—New York Post.

MINNESOTA IN LINE.

McKinley Will Have the State's 18 Delegates.

DAVIS IS OUT OF THE RACE.

He Telegraphs That He Bows to the Will of the Minnesota Republicans and Withdraws—New York Instructs For Morton After a Fight.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 25.—Senator Davis has wired Congressman Tawney withdrawing from the presidential race. This action was due to the refusal of three of the five Minnesota district conventions to endorse his candidacy. His determination to withdraw makes it certain that Minnesota's 18 votes at St. Louis will be for McKinley.

Senator Davis, in his message, says: "I am bound to always and do most loyally respect the wishes of the people of Minnesota. For that reason I request that my name be not considered in the deliberations of the Minneapolis convention. Give all my friends my most enduring and heartfelt thanks."

The four delegates-at-large, nominated at the Republican state convention, are P. G. Evans, Minneapolis; George Thompson, St. Paul; C. F. Hendryx, Sauk Center; L. P. Hunt, Mankato. They were elected by acclamation amid wild cheers, the delegates all rising, some mounting chairs and waving their hats. Each of the gentlemen made speeches, pledging themselves to McKinley.

Aside from the election of delegates nothing of moment transpired except the adoption of a platform reiterating and endorsing established Republican doctrines and containing a strong sound money plank.

INSTRUCTED FOR MORTON.

McKinleyites Make a Losing Fight In New York Convention.

NEW YORK, March 25.—The Republican convention has finished its labors. The preliminary sparring that has been going on for weeks has ended in the final battle and the forces that have been dormant for two years kept within the state boundaries the honor of the presidential endorsement of the greatest state in the Union, the state casting the largest number of votes in the electoral college. That endorsement goes to Governor Levi P. Morton.

The delegates-at-large will be Thomas C. Platt, Tiooga; Warner Miller of Herkimer; Chauncey M. Depew of New York; and Edward Lauterbach. The alternates will be Hamilton Fish of Garrison; Frank S. Witherbee of Port Henry; C. H. Babcock of Rochester; and Daniel McMillan of Buffalo.

An attempt was made to amend the report of the committee on nominations by substituting the names of Colonel Baker B. Jewett of Buffalo and General Samuel Thomas of New York, for Platt and Lauterbach, with the recommendation "that if it appears after the first ballot, that Hon. Levi P. Morton cannot be the choice of the national convention, that the delegates-at-large from this state will use all honorable means to promote the cause of William McKinley."

Then pandemonium reigned, one-half of the audience rising and shouting for McKinley, as the name was read. The chairman's gavel was raised again and again, but without effect. The house was in an uproar. Just over the chairman's head was swung a banner bearing this inscription: "McKinley, Prosperity's Advance Agent."

The very audacity of the act seemed to appall the Morton leaders for a moment and for a few seconds the McKinley adherents had the floor to themselves. Then from every part of the house came roars of "Morton," "Morton" and the Albany contingent with two Morton banners, took the place of the McKinley man. The transformation started and it was a question of lungs against lungs. The superior force of the Morton men soon made their side of the issue more prominent. Chairman Southwick, at the point, began the use of the gavel and after five minutes succeeded in establishing order. The motion was lost, 631 to 109.

The platform favors a sound currency on a gold basis as long as we are unable to secure international bimetalism, reaffirms the policy of protection, but asks that it be so guarded as not to prove monopolistic in any sense, while still protecting American industries. This, in brief beside the endorsement of Governor Morton for the presidency, is all that is said in the resolutions.

A HOT FIGHT IN TEXAS.

The Reed-Allison Men Control Republican State Convention.

AUSTIN, March 25.—The matter of who should be temporary chairman of the Republican state convention was definitely settled by the election of Cuney, the Allison negro leader, by a vote of 407 to 205 for Rosenthal, his McKinley opponent. The fight was made strictly on the color line. Cuney pleading with his race for support. His talk was successful beyond all expectations. This action gives the Reed-Allison men control of the convention, though the McKinley men claim the vote will not have any effect, as lots of negroes who voted for Cuney did so on race lines and that when it comes to the vote they will vote for McKinley men. It is said the McKinley men will make an arrangement with Cuney for a divided uninstructed delegation.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The Sixth Missouri Republicans nominated McKinley delegates.

The vote in the Huntington county (Pa.) convention resulted 84 for McKinley and 68 for Quay.

The South Dakota Republican convention today will likely instruct for McKinley.

A New York report says that Mr. Platt is planning with allies and lieutenants to defeat McKinley and nominate Thomas B. Reed.

Mercer county, Ill., in Cullom's own district, instructed for McKinley.

Henrico, Orange, Augusta and Staunton counties, Va., instructed for McKinley.

Delegates who are favorable to McKinley were chosen by Massachusetts Tenth district Republicans.

WEALTHY MAN ARRESTED.

Implicated in the Death of a Young Girl at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, March 25.—Samuel P. Langdon, a wealthy coal operator, has been arrested on suspicion of having been implicated in the death of Annie McGrath, who was found dead in her bed in a Girard avenue house. Langdon is 54 years old and the girl was 18. Although he has a residence in Powelton avenue he and the girl had been living in the Girard avenue house for about a month. The only other occupant was a colored servant.

Langdon was in the girl's room nearly all day and took dinner there. After the meal he went out and did not return. The body was discovered by the servant about three hours later. There were no marks of violence on it, but the physicians say she had been dead 24 hours. One hand was clasping a handkerchief to the breast and a wet towel lay over the forehead and eyes.

A postmortem examination has been made, but the coroner's physicians decline to disclose its results.

Miss McGrath was the daughter of a well-known business man and very pretty.

Langdon is reputed to be one of the wealthiest coal operators in the state. He is also financially interested in a number of southern railroads.

Langdon is said to have a wife and children living about 14 miles out of Pittsburgh.

SPANIARDS KILL EACH OTHER.

Another Fatal Mistake Made by Troops in Cuba.

HAVANA, March 25.—Another terrible mistake, attended with loss of life and resulting in many soldiers being wounded, has taken place. According to the few details received here, the columns of troops commanded by General Godoy and Colonel Helguin at the Santa Rosa plantation, near Esperanza, province of Santa Clara, mutually mistook each other for insurgent forces owing, it is said, to the thickness of the sugar cane.

Each detachment opened fire upon the other and for ten minutes shots were exchanged, resulting in the killing of 17 soldiers, among them being Lieutenant Colonel Fuenmayor of the Navas battalion. In addition, five officers and 84 soldiers were wounded. Two of the latter have since died, six others are mortally wounded and 32 are seriously injured.

THE BURGHERS ARMY.

Transvaal Dutch Arming For War With Great Britain.

LONDON, March 25.—A dispatch to the Pall Mall Gazette has been received from Johannesburg, which says that the Transvaal Burghers are assuming an alarming attitude. It is added that a strong feeling exists among the Dutch throughout South Africa, and that they are nervous themselves for a supreme struggle with Great Britain.

No reason is assigned for the sudden withdrawal of the ball of four members of the reform committee. They had been permitted to go to Johannesburg in order to attend to their private affairs, but all have now been arrested, and are kept under guard in a private house at Pretoria.

NEED THEIR OWN FLEET.

England Cannot Always Protect New Zealand.

WELLINGTON, N. Z., March 25.—Hon. Joseph George Ward, the colonial treasurer, speaking at Winton, said that a large increase of the debt of the colony must be expected, as New Zealand could not expect Great Britain always to protect her.

The time would shortly arrive, he said, when it would be necessary to obtain millions of pounds to provide their own fleet.

THE NAVAL APPROPRIATION BILL.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The naval appropriation bill for the fiscal year, which begins on July 1 next, has been completed by the house committee on naval affairs and may be considered by the house this week. The total amount carried by the bill is $31,611,064, of which $13,779,183 is for the increase of the navy. The principal features of the bill have been printed in these dispatches.

Weyler Ignores the Applications.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Consul General Williams at Havana has telegraphed the state department that he has made two applications to the governor general of Cuba for information as to the case of Walter Dygart, a citizen of Illinois, arrested by the Spanish officials for complicity in the rebellion. So far he has received no response to his applications.

Won't Meet In San Francisco.

CHICAGO, March 25.—At a meeting of the general officers of the National Woman's Christian Temperance union it was decided not to hold the next national convention in San Francisco. It is probable the next convention will be held in St. Louis in October, or November, 1896.

Rescued by a Brave Fisherman.

HOUGHTON, Mich., March 25.—Five Finnish fishermen drifted out to sea on a large ice float here. Constant Rembach, a fisherman, south of Jacobsville in Keweenaw, succeeded, after great exertions and much danger to himself, in saving all five.

Jealous Lover Kills Himself.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., March 25.—Prompted by jealousy Walter Peregrine, aged 22, attempted to kill his sweetheart, Annie May Harvey, a domestic, aged 16, and then fired two bullets into his own head and fell dead on the sidewalk.

Murdered In Their Home.

ALMA, Wis., March 25.—An investigation shows that the seven members of the Oldhouse family, who were found dead in the ruins of their burned home on the 6th inst., were murdered.

Fire Sweeps A Kansas Town.

THE KAISER IN ITALY.

Maintenance of the Triple Alliance Likely to Be Considered.

NAPLES, March 25.—Emperor William and Empress Augusta have arrived here and have received a great ovation. Great political interest attaches to this visit to Italy of the German emperor, as it has been generally expected that when he met King Humbert, the Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria would be the guest of the king of Italy at the same time. It is assumed in all public discussion of the visit that the subject of the conference between the three sovereigns, or in the absence of the Austrian emperor, between two will be the relations between the three countries of the dreibund.

The results of the recent visit of Count Goluchowski, the Austro-Hungarian premier to Berlin, will all be in favor of the maintenance of the dreibund. The work begun there, it is expected will be completed during Emperor William's stay, though it is freely surmised that the German emperor desires some modifications in the triple bond which will leave him freer to place Germany in accord with Russia in the far east.

SPAIN'S PROMPT DISAVOWAL.

Not Responsible For a Fervent Newspaper Utterance.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The Spanish government has officially disclaimed responsibility for the fiery utterances in the columns of the Madrid newspaper El Epoca. The article which has called forth the disclaimer was one demanding that the United States cease talking about the Cuban insurrection or else declare war at once upon Spain, and the government felt that it might be harmful because it was intimated that the article was inspired by it.

The disclaimer appears in all of the publicity attending the original publication in the Spanish organ, El Nacional.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—A Cuban reverse that may harm the insurgents' cause more in its moral effect than in a tangible way has just been sustained in Santi Spiritus province, according to a cablegram received at the Spanish legation.

It says the Spanish forces have captured all the archives of the insurgent government.

SOLD.
McKinley is solid in Minnesota. He will be solid at the convention, we sincerely hope, as he will make a president solid for home and home happiness and prosperity. Pennsylvania is in a hot factional fight over Quay, and he is not by any manner of means a favorite son.

THEY WOULD FUSE.
Two of the would-be leaders of the Democracy of East Liverpool made heroic efforts to fuse with the Prohibitionists on Saturday night last, in order to win against the Republicans. We can give the names of the unwashed. They pleaded piteously for a fusion, but were turned down in despair.

WHERE DID THEY COME FROM?
This query is bothering the mathematicians of East Liverpool, and the most clever of them are completely puzzled over the matter. We refer to the number of Republican voters in this city, as exemplified in the final count of the primaries of Saturday last. Will some Solomon in our midst elucidate the mystery?

MILITARY.
If we are to have a military company in East Liverpool, then we should have an organization of which the city may be proud. It will require very earnest work on the part of the commanding officer to make a crack company out of the present organization, on account of the almost absolute lack of discipline which has held sway. If Captain Will Hill is composed of the right material, he can make such a company as will compare favorably with any in Ohio. He should have the earnest, hearty support of those who believe that a military arm is necessary in the body politic.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.
You will note it at head of editorial column. Mayor Gilbert has served one term and will succeed himself, as he has given a clean administration, and, in so far as the management of this paper has knowledge, has adhered to his promises to enforce law and order in the city. He should be elected by a generous majority. Alfred J. Johnson, for city marshal, bears the reputation of being a clean man and a good citizen. The vote he received at the primaries is an indication of his popularity and the esteem in which he is held. We believe that he will make a first-class officer. Sherman T. Herbert succeeds a good man, and we believe that he will render full and complete satisfaction to his constituents. He is bright, keen, and an earnest worker. We wish him complete success. Frank E. Grosshans will attend to the duties of city solicitor in a manner which will convince his admirers that they made no mistake in voting for him. James N. Hanley succeeds himself. Jimmie is clever, courteous and agreeable, winning warm friends on every hand by strict attention to business, and ever having a courteous word for those who need attention on his part. He is worthy of a higher office at the hands of the people. Doctor Marshall will succeed himself as councilman from the first ward, and he will attend to his duties as he has in the past, fully, fearlessly and faithfully. J. W. Finley will make a good street commissioner, as he has had years of ripe experience in that department. The entire ticket is a good one, and will win out, with the exception of the three candidates who are battling under the "No Bible" banner. Personally, the NEWS REVIEW has not a particle of ill-feeling against John N. Taylor and Will L. Smith; they are all right politically; they are keen and shrewd business men; the manager of this paper would go out of his way to do them a favor. But they are all wrong on the Bible question, and this paper cannot and will not support them, further than placing their names on the ticket, which is the property of the Republican party. Mrs. Calhoun is a bright, intelligent lady; she is a very estimable woman; but she is under the "No Bible" banner. We sincerely hope and expect to see the entire Republican ticket elected, with the exception of Taylor, Smith and Mrs. Calhoun, whom we shall do our utmost to defeat, believing duty to God and His word paramount to every other claim.

"Perhaps you would not think so, out a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold. There are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one, get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Doctor Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs, aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

The Crescent of the Mohammedans.
The crescent symbol of the Mohammedans has nothing to do with their peculiar religious opinions and ceremonies. It was not originally a symbol of the followers of Mohammed at all, but was first used by the Byzantines. Thousands of coins have been found in all parts of Turkey which date back to the time when Constantinople was known as Byzantium, and on each of these the symbol of the crescent appears, proving conclusively that it was in use as an emblem among the people of that region long before Byzantium was overthrown and its name changed to Constantinople. The story of the origin of the crescent symbol is as follows: When Philip of Macedonia besieged Byzantium, he had planned to storm the city on a certain cloudy night, but before his arrangements were completed the moon shone out and discovered his approach to the besieged citizens, who accordingly marched out and repulsed his forces—something which would have been impossible in the darkness. After that event all Byzantine coins bore the symbol of the crescent moon, which was always alluded to as the "Savior of Byzantium."

After many years the hordes under Mohammed II captured Constantinople. At that time the crescent was used everywhere and upon everything. Suspecting that there must be magical power in the emblem the Mohammedans appropriated it, and have since used it as their only symbolic decoration.—St. Louis Republic.

Henry Clay.
A Lexington merchant, in conversation with the editor of The Gazette a few days ago, related this interesting reminiscence of Henry Clay: "I remember when a youth and an enthusiastic Clay Whig of coming here during the canvass of 1844 from my home in Harrodsburg, with the Clay club of Mercer county, on whose banner was the motto, 'We Are Few, but True,' to unite in the celebration held that year in Lexington. The barbecue was given at the race track. There a number of distinguished orators addressed the multitude—among them Tom Corwin, Judge Ewing, probably James C. Jones of Tennessee. But after this half century, that which I now remember most distinctly and what most impressed me was this—that Mr. Clay did not go out to the grounds. He considered it beneath the dignity of a presidential candidate to electioneer. How well I remember seeing him, as the procession in which I walked passed his office (then with his son, James B. Clay, on Short street, near the engine house), standing in the doorway with his head uncovered, and with the rare grace which few men possessed, bowing to the passing multitude that was wild with buzzes, banners and music."—Lexington Gazette.

Coffee.
Many persons who are unable to drink coffee that has been boiled or made by putting the coffee directly in boiling water and cooking at or above the boiling point for a certain number of minutes are able to drink without any disagreeable consequences either present or future coffee made by percolation—that is, by inclosing the coffee in a bag of some kind or in a wire gauze strainer and pouring the boiling water upon it. This method of coffee making should always be used in households where the members breakfast at different hours, and where only one pot of coffee is made. In France, where chicory is often added to the coffee, percolated or "drip" coffee that is quite strong is often made and tightly bottled or sealed so that its aroma cannot escape and kept in a cool place for several days. As it is wanted it is heated very hot and served with hot milk, and, if you want it absolutely perfect, heat your cup also. Percolated coffee is considered more economical than that boiled.—New York Post.

MINNESOTA IN LINE.

McKinley Will Have the State's 18 Delegates.
DAVIS IS OUT OF THE RACE.

He Telegraphs That He Bows to the Will of the Minnesota Republicans and Withdraws—New York Instructs For Morton After a Fight.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 25.—Senator Davis has wired Congressman Tawney withdrawing from the presidential race. This action was due to the refusal of three of the five Minnesota district conventions to endorse his candidacy. His determination to withdraw makes it certain that Minnesota's 18 votes at St. Louis will be for McKinley.

Senator Davis, in his message, says: "I am bound to always and do most loyally respect the wishes of the people of Minnesota. For that reason I request that my name be not considered in the deliberations of the Minnesota convention. Give all my friends my most enduring and heartfelt thanks."

The four delegates-at-large, nominated at the Republican state convention, are P. G. Evans, Minneapolis; George Thompson, St. Paul; C. F. Hendryx, Sank Center; L. P. Hunt, Mankato. They were elected by acclamation amid wild cheers, the delegates all rising, some mounting chairs and waving their hats. Each of the gentlemen made speeches, pledging themselves to McKinley.

Aside from the election of delegates nothing of moment transpired except the adoption of a platform reiterating and endorsing established Republican doctrines and containing a strong sound money plank.

INSTRUCTED FOR MORTON.

McKinleyites Make a Losing Fight In New York Convention.

NEW YORK, March 25.—The Republican convention has finished its labors. The preliminary sparring that has been going on for weeks has ended in the final battle and the forces that have been dormant for two years kept within the state boundaries the honor of the presidential endorsement of the greatest state in the Union, the state casting the largest number of votes in the electoral college. That endorsement goes to Governor Levi P. Morton.

The delegates-at-large will be Thomas C. Platt of Tioga, Warner Miller of Herkimer, Chauncey M. Depew of New York and Edward Lauterbach. The alternates will be Hamilton Fish of Garrison, Frank S. Witherbee of Port Henry, C. H. Babcock of Rochester and Daniel McMillan of Buffalo.

An attempt was made to amend the report of the committee on nominations by substituting the names of Colonel Baker B. Jewett of Buffalo and General Samuel Thomas of New York, for Platt and Lauterbach, with the recommendation "that if it appears after the first ballot that Hon. Levi P. Morton cannot be the choice of the national convention, that the delegates-at-large from this state will use all honorable means to promote the cause of William McKinley."

Then pandemonium reigned, one-half of the audience rising and shouting for McKinley, as the name was read. The chairman's gavel was raised again and again, but without effect. The house was in an uproar. Just over the chairman's head was swung a banner bearing this inscription: "McKinley, Prosperity's Advance Agent."

The very audacity of the act seemed to appall the Morton leaders for a moment and for a few seconds the McKinley adherents had the floor to themselves. Then from every part of the house came roars of "Morton," "Morton" and the Albany contingent with two Morton banners, took the place of the McKinley man. The transformation started and it was a question of lungs against lungs. The superior force of the Morton men soon made their side of the issue more prominent. Chairman Southwick, at this point, began the use of the gavel and after five minutes succeeded in establishing order. The motion was lost, 631 to 109.

The platform favors a sound currency on a gold basis as long as we are unable to secure international bimetalism, reaffirms the policy of protection, but asks that it be so guarded as not to prove monopolistic in any sense, while still protecting American industries. This, in brief, beside the endorsement of Governor Morton for the presidency, is all that is said in the resolutions.

A HOT FIGHT IN TEXAS.

The Reed-Allison Men Control Republican State Convention.

AUSTIN, March 25.—The matter of who should be temporary chairman of the Republican state convention was definitely settled by the election of Cuneo, the Allison negro leader, by a vote of 407 to 205 for Rosenthal, his McKinley opponent. The fight was made strictly on the color line. Cuneo pleaded with his race for support. His talk was successful beyond all expectations. This action gives the Reed-Allison men control of the convention, though the McKinley men claim the vote will not have any effect, as lots of negroes who voted for Cuneo did so on race lines and that when it comes to the vote they will vote for McKinley men. It is said the McKinley men will make an arrangement with Cuneo for a divided uninstructed delegation.

POLITICAL NOTES.
The Sixth Missouri Republicans nominated McKinley delegates.
The vote in the Huntingdon county (Pa.) convention resulted 84 for McKinley and 63 for Quay.
The South Dakota Republican convention today will likely instruct for McKinley.
A New York report says that Mr. Platt is planning with allies and lieutenants to defeat McKinley and nominate Thomas B. Reed.
Mercer county, Ill., in Cullom's own district, instructed for McKinley.
Henrico, Orange, Augusta and Staunton counties, Va., instructed for McKinley.
Delegates who are favorable to McKinley were chosen by Massachusetts Tenth district Republicans.

WEALTHY MAN ARRESTED.

Implicated in the Death of a Young Girl at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, March 25.—Samuel P. Langdon, a wealthy coal operator, has been arrested on suspicion of having been implicated in the death of Annie McGrath, who was found dead in her bed in a Girard avenue house. Langdon is 54 years old and the girl was 18. Although he has a residence in Powelton avenue he and the girl had been living in the Girard avenue house for about a month. The only other occupant was a colored servant.

Langdon was in the girl's room nearly all day and took dinner there. After the meal he went out and did not return. The body was discovered by the servant about three hours later. There were no marks of violence on it, but the physicians say she had been dead 24 hours. One hand was clasping a handkerchief to the breast and a wet towel lay over the forehead and eyes. A postmortem examination has been made, but the coroner's physicians decline to disclose its results.

Miss McGrath was the daughter of a well-known business man and very pretty.

Langdon is reputed to be one of the wealthiest coal operators in the state. He is also financially interested in a number of southern railroads.

Langdon is said to have a wife and children living about 14 miles out of Pittsburgh.

SPANIARDS KILL EACH OTHER.

Another Fatal Mistake Made by Troops in Cuba.

HAVANA, March 25.—Another terrible mistake, attended with loss of life and resulting in many soldiers being wounded, has taken place. According to the few details received here, the columns of troops commanded by General Godoy and Colonel Holguin at the Santa Rosa plantation, near Esperanza, province of Santa Clara, mutually mistook each other for insurgent forces owing, it is said, to the thickness of the sugar cane.

Each detachment opened fire upon the other and for ten minutes shots were exchanged, resulting in the killing of 17 soldiers, among them being Lieutenant Colonel Fuernmayor of the Navas battalion. In addition, five officers and 84 soldiers were wounded. Two of the latter have since died, six others are mortally wounded and 32 are seriously injured.

THE BURGHERS ARMY.

Transvaal Dutch Arming For War With Great Britain.

LONDON, March 25.—A dispatch to the Pall Mall Gazette has been received from Johannesburg, which says that the Transvaal Burgers are assuming an alarming attitude. It is added that a strong feeling exists among the Dutch throughout South Africa, and that they are nervous themselves for a supreme struggle with Great Britain.

No reason is assigned for the sudden withdrawal of the bail of four members of the reform committee. They had been permitted to go to Johannesburg in order to attend to their private affairs, but all have now been arrested, and are kept under guard in a private house at Pretoria.

NEED THEIR OWN FLEET.

England Cannot Always Protect New Zealand.

WELLINGTON, N. Z., March 25.—Hon. Joseph George Ward, the colonial treasurer, speaking at Winton, said that a large increase of the debt of the colony must be expected, as New Zealand could not expect Great Britain always to protect her.

The time would shortly arrive, he said, when it would be necessary to obtain millions of pounds to provide their own fleet.

The Naval Appropriation Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The naval appropriation bill for the fiscal year, which begins on July 1 next, has been completed by the house committee on naval affairs and may be considered by the house this week. The total amount carried by the bill is $31,611,044, of which $12,779,133 is for the increase of the navy. The principal features of the bill have been printed in these dispatches.

Weyler Ignores the Applications.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Consul General Williams at Havana has telegraphed the state department that he has made two applications to the governor general of Cuba for information as to the case of Walter Dwyer, a citizen of Illinois, arrested by the Spanish officials for complicity in the rebellion. So far he has received no response to his applications.

Won't Meet in San Francisco.

CHICAGO, March 25.—At a meeting of the general officers of the National Woman's Christian Temperance union it was decided not to hold the next national convention in San Francisco. It is probable the next convention will be held in St. Louis in October, or November, 1896.

Rescued by a Brave Fisherman.

Houghton, Mich., March 25.—Five Finnish fishermen drifted out to sea on a large ice float here. Constant Rembach, a fisherman, south of Jacobsville in Keweenaw, succeeded, after great exertions and much danger to himself, in saving all five.

Jealous Lover Kills Himself.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., March 25.—Prompted by jealousy, Walter Peregruy, aged 32, attempted to kill his sweetheart, Annie May Havey, a domestic, aged 16, and then fired two bullets into his own head and fell dead on the sidewalk.

Murdered in Their Home.

A STRIKE FOR FREEDOM OF VISION

Made by Heartless Men Legislators in the House—Bill Passed Holding Counties Liable For Damages by Mobs. Other Measures Considered.

COLUMBUS, March 25.—A bill has been passed in the house prohibiting the wearing of high hats in theaters. Other bills passed in the house were: Providing for the suppression of mob violence by holding the county responsible for damages. Providing for taxing freight line and equipment companies under the Nichols law.

Amending section 2807 so that additions shall not be made to returns for taxation by boards of equalization until due notice has been given.

Providing that persons who refuse to pay their fines for violating the game laws shall serve 30 days in the jail or workhouse.

Bills were introduced in the senate as follows:

Extending to veterinary surgeons the exemptions from executions allowed by statute to physicians.

Authorizing cities of the second class, fourth grade, which since the last census have been advanced from villages, to have abutting lots appraised for street assessment purposes.

Bills were passed in the senate as follows:

To provide for inflicting the death penalty by means of electricity.

To authorize township boards of education to close sub-district schools and have the pupils conveyed to the school in an adjoining district at the expense of the district where they reside.

House joint resolution to appoint a joint committee to investigate the state's title to property owned by the Valley railroad in Cleveland.

A FAILURE AT AKRON.

Manufacturers of Empire Mowers and Reapers Go to the Wall.

AKRON, O., March 25.—The J. F. Seiberling company, manufacturers of the Empire mowers, reapers and binders, have made an assignment to W. H. Carter, one of the employees of the company. The failure was precipitated by an attachment for $10,000 in favor of the First National bank of Ravenna, O. President J. F. Seiberling said that the liabilities would reach $250,000, but he refused to make a statement of the assets of the company.

It is said the firm of Seiberling, Miller & Co. of Doylestown, O., will also be affected. The plant was established early in the 60's as the Excelsior Mower and Reaper works. There was a failure in the 70's, but in 1884 the J. F. Seiberling company was organized with a capital of $1,000,000. The company was caught in the panic of 1893 and has never fully recovered from the shock. The company employed 850 men.

Two Convicts Pardoned.

COLUMBUS, March 25.—Governor Bushnell has pardoned Napoleon McCauley, convicted of burglary and larceny in May, 1895, in the Montgomery county courts. His time expires April 19. He also pardoned Oscar Murphy, who was convicted in October, 1894, of manslaughter and sentenced to four years. He was sent to the penitentiary from Clermont county.

Convict Contractors Fail.

COLUMBUS, March 25.—W. E. Joseph and Harry B. Arnold have been appointed receivers of the Columbus Manufacturing company, operating at the Ohio penitentiary, on the failure of the company to comply with an order of the court to pay in part or give bond for a claim for $50,000 for convict labor due the state.

Hahn After Insurance Men.

CINCINNATI, March 25.—State Insurance Commissioner Hahn and Congressmen Brownwell have filed affidavits for the arrest of Charles Moore, agent, and Ed S. Waddington, solicitor, of the Fraternal Alliance Insurance company of Baltimore for conducting the business without a license.

Flooded by a Rat.

HAMILTON, O., March 25.—A hungry rat and a lead pipe has caused several hundred dollars' damage at Endres Bros. shoe store, on High street. It gnawed a hole in the pipe on the second floor, and flooded the stock. The leak was not discovered until morning.

Sentenced to Be Hung.

CLEVELAND, March 25.—Judge Ong in common pleas court has sentenced Bushrod Kelch to be hanged July 28. Kelch brutally murdered his divorced wife last November and made an unsuccessful attempt to suicide.

Suit Over Clubbing.

SMALL OHIO HAPPENINGS.

At Findlay, Ida Criseman, aged 15, swore out a warrant for the arrest of her brother, George Dindall, aged 20, on a paternity charge. He has agreed to marry her.

A large county organization of the Anti-Saloon League was effected at Kenton.

Jonas Kayer of Portsmouth has sued for divorce from Nancy Kayer on grounds of willful absence. He alleges that Nancy drove him from home.

Charles W. Morgan, a New York detective, is in Portsmouth, working up an alleged counterfeiting case.

Judge R. A. Calvert of Portsmouth has sued Mrs. Louise Briggs to recover a $500 attorney's fee. The judge was her attorney in a successful divorce suit.

Catherine E. Berthold of Portsmouth has brought suit for divorce from Gustave Berthold, a railroad man. She alleges he called her names and threatened to kill her.

Ed K. Walsh, Democratic candidate for representative last fall, has been appointed mayor of Otway, vice J. K. Haselbaker, resigned.

TOUCHING APPEAL FOR HELP.

The Relief For Armenians Coming In Too Slow.

NEW YORK, March 25.—Brown Bros. & Co., treasurers of the Armenian relief fund, received the following cablegram from Philippopolis, Armenia, signed by the international relief committee, in acknowledgement of a remittance of $15,000:

"Your two remittances most timely. Thanks. Distribution by Harpoon committee reaches 54,000 souls. Over 1,000 have died of exposure and starvation there alone. We are supporting 15 other centers. Need appalling. A nation is threatened with extermination."

Spencer Trask, chairman of the executive committee of the Armenian relief fund, said: "No appeal can be stronger than this statement of facts fresh from the field. The gifts received thus far from all sources, both in England and America, have been entirely inadequate and now seem to be dwindling. The control of all funds is and will continue entirely in the hands of most trustworthy American residents and British consuls."

A STRIKE ON MAY 1.

The Carpenters to Be Ordered Out by the Federation.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 25.—At today's session of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor the sub-committee on the eight-hour day problem submitted its report. It recommended that May 1 be set as the day to inaugurate the eight-hour plan throughout the country and that the carpenters be selected as the union to make the test.

The committee recommends a strike of all carpenters' unions that are forced to work over time, beginning on the day that the eight-hour plan goes into effect. It is expected that the council will unanimously endorse the action of its committee.

At the session the protest of the St. Louis trades unionists against the Knights of Labor was heard, and it was decided that trades unionists must leave the Knights of Labor.

Dr. Jameson's Trial.

LONDON, March 25.—Sergeant White of the Bechuanaland mounted police, testified in the trial of Dr. Jameson's expedition and added that Colonel Grey questioned the troops prior to starting and informed them they were not going to fight for the queen, but for the supremacy of the British flag in South Africa. The leaders refused to turn back when ordered.

Successful Filibustering Expedition.

NEW YORK, March 25.—The Cuban junta has received news of the successful landing in Cuba of an expedition led by Braulio Pena with 600 rifles, 580,000 rounds of ammunition, two rapid fire Hotchkiss cannon, several hundred pounds of dynamite and a liberal supply of medicines and hospital stores. This makes the eighth expedition which landed in the last 40 days.

Coal Operators Fail to Pool.

PITTSBURGH, March 25.—The Ohio and Pennsylvania coal operators have failed to form a pool, the conference breaking up in a row.

HOUSE MUST YIELD.

If Not, Cuban Resolutions Will Be Hung Up.

SENATE'S SET MAY BE ADOPTED.

Senator Mills Roasts Weyer in a Speech Favoring Foreible Occupation of Cuba. Morgan Also Speaks Again—The News of Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The conference of the two houses on the Cuban resolutions have not yet reached a conclusion. The entire time of the conference was spent in canvassing the situation and in trying to arrive at common ground upon which the two houses can stand. The senate conferees explained the difficulties they had encountered in the senate and made it clear to the house members of the conference that it would be necessary for the house to yield something to prevent leaving the question in the air between the two houses. The house conferees accepted this explanation and expressed a willingness to make reasonable concessions, agreeing as they said, fully with the senators that it would place both houses in a ridiculous attitude to have the matter fail in conference, after both houses, by such extensive majorities, had agreed, each in its own way, upon an expression friendly to Cuba.

Two alternatives were presented, which were those of the house accepting the senate resolutions without change, the modifying of the house resolutions by leaving out the series providing for intervention. When the conference adjourned no decision had been reached as to which course should be pursued or whether some other course might not be taken. If the senate resolutions are accepted by the house it will not be necessary to bring the question into the senate again and some of the senators think the conference will finally result in their acceptance.

Although the main Cuban resolutions have been recommended to conference, the subject came up incidentally in the senate on Senator Mills' resolution for the forcible occupation of the island of Cuba in order to aid Cubans in securing local self-government. Senator Mills spoke for two hours in support of the resolution. He was unsparing of his arraignment of General Weyer as an "atrocious scoundrel and villain" and of his record of Spain's bloody record in the Old and New Worlds. Senator Morgan also spoke briefly in further support of the Cuban resolutions. Senator Mills' resolutions went to the calendar after the speeches.

A SALVE FOR THE SOUTH.

Hill's Bill Passed Removing Disability of Ex-Rebel Officers.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Senator Hill's bill to remove the restrictions against the appointment as officers of the army or navy of persons who held commissions in the regular army or navy before the rebellion and who subsequently took part in the war on the side of the Confederacy, which passed the senate during the height of the excitement over the Venezuelan boundary question, passed the house today after two hours' debate with but one dissenting vote, that of Mr. Boutelle (Me.). The Democrats, except Mr. Cummings (N. Y.), who spoke, as he said, "as one of the 800,000 Northern Democrats who fought in the Union army," and Mr. Wilson (S. C.), who was drawn into the debate by Mr. Boutelle, refrained entirely from participation. Mr. Hill (Ia.), chairman of the military committee, who had charge of the bill, admitted that it would subvert no practical purpose and was largely sentimental.

Mr. Boutelle, who led the opposition single-handed, thought it would furnish a bad object lesson for naval and military cadets who were about entering on careers in the service of their country, and when he got warmed up to his subject, called attention to the fact that many southern men in congress in the past had obstructed legislation in the interest of Union soldiers, dwelling particularly on the opposition to the retirement of General Grant. Mr. Grosvenor (O.) and Mr. Grow (Pa.), however, supported the bill ardently as a graceful and gracious act to the vanquished, and when the vote was taken Mr. Boutelle alone voted against it. The bill to abolish the death penalty in certain cases was passed.

Bills were also passed to make the sale of spirituous liquors under a false brand punishable by fine and imprisonment, to turn over the property of the Mormon church, now in the hands of a receiver, to the trustees and several others of minor importance.

IMPORTANT A. P. A. MEETING.

The Advisory Board Considering the Body's Political Course.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—What is regarded by its members as the most important meeting in the history of the A. P. A. is being held here by the advisory board of the order. The meeting was called to outline the political policy and future plans of the organization, and to formulate demands on the old political parties for the insertion in their respective platforms of planks opposing sectarian appropriation of public money.

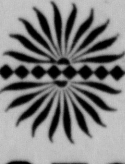

The board is expected to adopt resolutions favoring the bill of Representative Linton of Michigan amending the constitution so as to absolutely inhibit sectarian appropriation. Mr. Linton, it is understood, will push this bill and try to secure a favorable report on it at this session of congress. The proposed amendment is identical with that introduced by the late Secretary Blaine when in congress in 1873.

To Connect Atlantic and Lakes.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Representative Hepburn (Ia.) has introduced a bill providing for a commission of five engineers to report upon the best practicable route for a ship canal having 28 feet depth connecting the great lakes with the Atlantic ocean.

Condition of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The treasury has lost $186,300 in gold coin and $27,300 in bars, leaving the true amount of the gold reserve, $127,577,903.

Caution about the Use and Selection of Spectacles

"Persons having normal vision will be able to read this print as a specimen of what can be done with eyes and spectacles. They will be able to read with ease and accuracy if they use spectacles which are properly fitted to their eyes. If they use spectacles which are not properly fitted to their eyes, they will find it difficult to read and will become tired and uncomfortable. It is a well known fact that the eyes of most people are defective in some way, and that if they do not use spectacles which are properly fitted to their eyes, they will become blind. It is therefore of the greatest importance that every person who uses spectacles should have them properly fitted to their eyes. The only way to do this is to have them fitted by a competent optician. Do not be deceived by cheap spectacles sold everywhere. They will do you no good and will probably do you harm. Buy your spectacles of a competent optician and have them properly fitted to your eyes. This will save you money and will keep your eyes healthy and happy."

Illustrates a Phase of Clericalism.

One of the most famous of medieval utterances is a curious mixture of diabolical wit and savage fanaticism. It is told of the Papal Legate Milo, at the sack of Bezier, in the "crusade" against the Albigenses. History, or tradition, says that when it was asked how it would be possible to distinguish the heretics in the town from the Catholics the legate cried out: "Kill them all! God will know his own." So the story goes. But did the legate ever say it? Or was it said by Arnold, the Cistercian abbot? Did anybody say it? The only thing absolutely certain is that, expressing, as it did, in the pithiest style, the spirit of medieval fanaticism in religion, it might very well have been uttered by somebody.—London News.

Judge R. A. Calvert of Portsmouth has said Mrs. Louisa Briggs to recover a $500 attorney's fee. The judge was her attorney in a successful divorce suit.

Catherine E. Berthold of Portsmouth has brought suit for divorce from Gustave Berthold, a railroad man. She alleges he had her names and threatened to kill her.

Ed K. Walsh, Democratic candidate for representative last fall in opposition to Hon. Charles E. Hard, has been appointed mayor of Otway, vice J. E. Hazelbaker, resigned.

TOUCHING APPEAL FOR HELP.

The Relief For Armenians Coming In Too Slow.

NEW YORK, March 25.—Brown Bros. & Co., treasurers of the Armenian relief fund, received the following cablegram from Philippopolis, Armenia, signed by the international relief committee, in acknowledgement of a remittance of $15,000:

"Your two remittances most timely. Thanks. Distribution by Harpoon committee reaches 54,000 souls. Over 1,000 have died of exposure and starvation since alone. We are supporting 15 other centers. Need appalling. A nation is threatened with extermination."

Spencer Trask, chairman of the executive committee of the Armenian relief fund, said concerning the foregoing cablegram: "No appeal can be stronger than this statement of facts fresh from the field. The gifts received thus far from all sources, both in England and America, have been entirely inadequate and now seem to be dwindling. The control of all funds is and will continue entirely in the hands of most trustworthy American residents and British consuls."

A STRIKE ON MAY 1.

The Carpenters To Be Ordered Out by the Federation.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 25.—At today's session of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor the sub-committee on the eight-hour day problem submitted its report. It recommended that May 1 be set as the day to inaugurate the eight-hour plan throughout the country and that the carpenters be selected as the union to make the test.

The committee recommends a strike of all carpenters' unions that are forced to work over time, beginning on the day that the eight-hour plan goes into effect. It is expected that the council will unanimously endorse the action of its committee.

At the session the protest of the St. Louis trades unionists against the Knights of Labor was heard, and it was decided that trades unionists must leave the Knights of Labor.

Dr. Jameson's Trial.

LONDON, March 25.—Sergeant White of the Bechuanaland mounted police, testified in the trial of Dr. Jameson to have refused to join Dr. Jameson's expedition and added that Colonel Grey questioned the troops prior to starting and informed them they were not going to fight for the queen, but for the supremacy of the British flag in South Africa. The leaders refused to turn back when ordered.

Successful Filibustering Expedition.

NEW YORK, March 25.—The Cuban junta has received news of the successful landing in Cuba of an expedition led by Braulio Pena with 600 rifles, 589,000 rounds of ammunition, two rapid fire Hotchkiss cannons, several hundred pounds of dynamite and a liberal supply of medicines and hospital stores. This makes the eighth expedition which landed in the last 40 days.

A Moravian Minister Dead.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., March 25.—Intelligence of the sudden death of Rev. Robert W. Herbst, one of the wisest known pastors in the state, has been received by the bishops of the Moravian church here. Mr. Herbst served Moravian charges in Maryland, Ohio and Wisconsin. He was 50 years of age.

Accused of Enticing a Child.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., March 25.—Marshall Farmer has left to secure the arrest of D. Hemphill at Findlay, O., on the charge of enticing Goldie Neighbor from the home of her father, P. W. Neighbor, in Winn county, Ia. The child is now with her mother, the wife of a prominent attorney at Findlay.

HOUSE MUST YIELD.

If Not, Cuban Resolutions Will Be Hung Up.

SENATE'S SET MAY BE ADOPTED.

Senator Mills Roasts Weyer In a Speech Favoring Forceful Occupation of Cuba. Morgan Also Speaks Again—The News of Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The conferees of the two houses on the Cuban resolutions have not yet reached a conclusion. The entire time of the conference was spent in canvassing the situation and in trying to arrive at common ground upon which the two houses can stand. The senate conferees explained the difficulties they had encountered in the senate and made it clear to the house members of the conference that it would be necessary for the house to yield something to prevent leaving the question in the air between the two houses. The house conferees accepted this explanation and expressed a willingness to make reasonable concessions, agreeing as they said, fully with the senators that it would be a waste of time to continue the attitude to have the matter fall in conference, after both houses, by such extensive majorities, had agreed, each in its own way, upon an expression friendly to Cuba.

Two alternatives were presented, which were those of the house accepting the senate resolutions without change, the modifying of the house resolutions by leaving out the series providing for intervention. When the conference adjourned no decision had been reached as to which course should be pursued, or whether some other resolutions are accepted by the senate it will not be necessary to bring the question into the senate again and some of the senators think the conference will finally result in their acceptance.

Although the main Cuban resolutions have been recommitted to conference, the subject came up incidentally in the senate on Senator Mills' resolution for the forcible occupation of the island of Cuba in order to aid Cubans in securing local self-government. Senator Mills spoke for two hours in support of the resolution. He was unsparing in his arraignment of General Weyer as an "atrocious scoundrel and villain" and of his recital of Spain's bloody record in the Old and New Worlds. Senator Morgan also spoke briefly in further support of the Cuban resolutions. Senator Mills' resolutions went to the calendar after the speeches.

A SALVE FOR THE SOUTH.

Hill's Bill Passed Removing Disability of Ex-Rebel Officers.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Senator Hill's bill to remove the restrictions against the appointment as officers of the army or navy of persons who held commissions in the regular army or navy before the rebellion and who subsequently took part in the war on the side of the Confederacy, which passed the senate during the height of the excitement over the Venezuelan boundary question, passed the house today after two hours' debate with but one dissenting vote, that of Mr. Boutelle (Me.). The Democrats, except Mr. Cummings (N. Y.), who spoke, as he said, "as one of the 800,000 Northern Democrats who fought in the Union army," and Mr. Wilson (S. C.), who was drawn into the debate by Mr. Boutelle, refrained entirely from participation. Mr. Hull (Ia.), chairman of the military committee, who had charge of the bill, admitted that it would subvert no practical purpose and was largely sentimental.

Mr. Boutelle, who led the opposition single-handed, thought it would furnish a bad object lesson for naval and military cadets who were about entering on careers in the service of their country, and when he got warmed up to his subject, called attention to the fact that many southern men in congress in the past had obstructed legislation in the interest of Union soldiers, dwelling particularly on the opposition to the retirement of General Grant. Mr. Grosvenor (O.) and Mr. Grow (Pa.) however, supported the bill ardently as a graceful and gracious act to the vanquished, and when the vote was taken Mr. Boutelle alone voted against it. The bill to abolish the death penalty in certain cases was passed.

Bills were also passed to make the sale of spirituous liquors under a false brand punishable by fine and imprisonment, to turn over the property of the Mormon church, now in the hands of a receiver, to the trustees and several others of minor importance.

IMPORTANT A. P. A. MEETING.

The Advisory Board Considering the Body's Political Course.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—What is regarded by its members as the most important meeting in the history of the A. P. A. is being held here by the advisory board of the order. The meeting was called to outline the political policy and future plans of the organization, and to formulate demands on the old political parties for the insertion in their respective platforms of planks opposing sectarian appropriation of public moneys.

The board is expected to adopt resolutions favoring the bill of Representative Linton of Michigan, extending the constitution so as to absolutely inhibit sectarian appropriation. Mr. Linton, it is understood, will push this bill and try to secure a favorable report on it at this session of congress. The proposed amendment is identical with that introduced by the late Secretary Blaine when in congress in 1875.

To Connect Atlantic and Lakes.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Representative Hepburn (Ia.) has introduced a bill providing for a commission of five engineers to report upon the best practicable route for a ship canal having 25 feet depth connecting the great lakes with the Atlantic ocean.

Condition of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The treasury has lost $186,300 in gold coin and $27,200 in bars, leaving the true amount of the gold reserve, $127,577,904.

Illustrates a Phase of Clericalism.

One of the most famous of medieval utterances is a curious mixture of diabolical wit and savage fanaticism. It is told of the Papal Legate Milo, at the sack of Bezier, in the "crusade" against the Albigensians. History, or tradition, says that when it was asked how it would be possible to distinguish the heretics in the town from the Catholics the legate cried out: "Kill them all! God will know his own." So the story goes. But did the legate ever say it? Or was it said by Arnold, the Clericalian abbot? Did anybody say it? The only thing absolutely certain is that, expressing, as it did, in the pitiless style, the spirit of medieval fanaticism in religion, it might very well have been uttered by somebody.—London News.

Saw Him Fed.

Contrary to general belief, Munchausen is not dead, or he must live in the persons of some of the continental tourists you meet around the Metropole and the Victoria. They repeat this conversation of one of those enterprising but prevaricating end of the century explorers: "I visited Russia, Germany, Austria, Italy."

"Indeed! So you saw Venice?"
"Well, I rather guess I did."
"Did you see the lion of St. Mark?"
"Of course I did. Why, I saw him fed."—Washington Post.

A GAELT AWAKENING.

"I met a man at the pottery today, to whom I had been talking at the rink on a previous occasion, and I said to him today: 'Will you decide for God today?' Oh, the happiness of it, men, when he responded: 'I have decided for God, and, bless his holy name, he helps me,' and that noble fellow shook hands with me before the crowd. Trust him, men, for all things and at all times. I've trusted him for 20 years, and he has never left me, nor forsaken me.

"When Moody was in the old country he was accosted by a wealthy woman who was undecided, wanted Jesus, but was afraid she could not hold out faithful. Moody pulled out his watch and said: 'Suppose that watch would say that it couldn't run for 24 hours; that it would become weary and fail, and that therefore it would not start at all. Don't it run by the fraction of a second at a time? Don't it do its duty and go right along and keep good time? Just so in the service of God. Accept Jesus and trust in his mercy and power; accept him for the now, the living present, and he will see that you do not fail, if you trust him fully.' The lady cried out: 'I see it, Mr. Moody. I see the application. I will accept Jesus now. I decide for him, and I'll trust him all the way through.' When Moody reached his home in Northfield, he found a valuable and handsome clock awaiting him, telling him that all he had to do was to wind it and start it going and it would do its work, and reminding him, as he listened to the ticking thereof, that Mrs. Clark was trusting the dear God, and would continue to trust him all the way through.

"Men, decide for Jesus tonight, and he will stand by you all the way through, in the office, at your business, in the pottery, in the glasshouse, all the way through, from earth to heaven.

"Why, men, every physician in Toronto has decided for Christ. Some were Christians, of course, before the meetings; but I understand that they are all Christians now. Praise the blessed Master for his mercy.

"Oh, men and women of East Liverpool, accept our Christ and trust him all the way through. Cry out in your extremity, with the weight of conviction upon you, 'I will trust him; I will trust him; and all will be well, for you have acted on principle and carried your resolve to determination. God bless you, one and all!'

THE NOON MEETING.

The pottery employees, men and women, assembled in the rink today, services commencing promptly at 12 o'clock, song service prevailing, with Weeden leading the choir. It was a grand, good song of victory for Jesus, men and women joining in with full melody and power. Mrs. Ted. Brooks presided at the piano, with Mrs. Ida Watkins at the organ, while Stoddard made praise jubilant through the instrumentality of the cornet. Rev. Whitehead led in an eloquent, earnest, pathetic prayer, asking God's warmest blessings on the men and women, the boys and girls who work in our potteries, granting to them happiness here on earth and never ending bliss in heaven.

The quartette rendered "The bird with a broken pinion," and Rev. John Lloyd Lee led in prayer service, full of pathos and power, in the hands of the Master. Mr. Weeden and Mrs. Sloane rendered as a duet, "Come Unto Me, and I will give you rest."

"The 28th verse and 11th chapter of Matthew. 'Come unto me all ye that labor and heavy laden, and I will give you rest.' Who is inviting us? The blessed Christ. When Jesus was on earth, he was ever and always the warm friend and comforter of the toiler, struggling in life, those who stood in need of a helper. See how he cured the incurable leper. Then he gave the poor, unfortunate, miserable blind beggar his sight. See how he made happy and blessed the poor, lost woman. Look at him stopping the funeral cortege and raising to life the widow's son, possibly her only support, and sending her home rejoicing. See how he fed the hungry 5,000. Our blessed Christ was always engaged, when upon this earth, in doing good to the poor and needy. He did not come upon the earth to save the righteous, but to bring salvation to the poor sinner. This same blessed Jesus, your friend and my friend, is here today, on the same blessed mission as first brought him to this earth. He is here to save, for time and eternity, with his wondrous message of 'Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden.'

"His message is to the weary ones—those who need rest. We value a gift, as a rule, by the character or popularity of the giver. What think ye then, men and women of East Liverpool, when this gift offered you is presented by the hand of Almighty God? Think of this, men and women, boys and girls of the potteries, God invited you here today. This is addressed, this blessed message, to all those who make their living by the sweat of their brows: 'All ye who labor and are heavy laden.' God worked among the laboring classes in this olden days, and He is working among them in the present day. I pray that the churches may get in closer union with the working men and women of today; they are the hope of the nation; capital cannot get along without them; capital and labor should work together, on a plane of friendship for one another; their interests are identical and inseparable.

"A saloonist met a working man of East Liverpool and said to him: 'We are not very busy just now.' Think of that, men and women, not very busy just now; oh, is that not glorious news—the infamous saloons are not as busy as they were; thank God for that. 'No, we are not busy just now, and I am putting down fine linoleum upon my floor, putting in some nice pictures and making the place a regular beauty; don't fail to come 'round and see us—you are always welcome.' The workman looked at him a moment and then said: 'Sir, I've been doing some pretty deep thinking of late over this matter, and I've about come to the conclusion that I'll put down some new linoleum in my own home; put up a few nice pictures, also; and I may put in some furniture and carpets; and then the wife and babies will need a few things. I guess I'll be kept busy for a while, and I hope you'll excuse me. I really won't have time to call around and see you. Good day.'

"God bless you, men, if every workman in East Liverpool would take such a stand as did that noble fellow, the keepers of the infernal hell holes of this city would be compelled to shut up shop and go into some honorable and legitimate business.

"Said an employer of men to me the other day, in this city, pointing to one of his men: 'That lad is a splendid workman, and would be all right if he would leave liquor alone. I'll have to part with him, however, as he's becoming a wreck.' Oh, the shame of it, men, to thus prostitute God-given talents and noble manhood.

"Workmen and workwomen of East Liverpool, I love you and I love your souls. You need rest. With rest of mind comes rest of body, even when you are at your workbench. A man does his work in the day time, and visits the saloon and drinks at night, carrying on carousal until a late hour, and then wonders that he is so tired and weary the next day. Oh, the foolishness of such a life. A young woman dances in this nasty dance hall over the way until a late hour, after a hard day's work, and says she is utterly tired out during her toil at the bench the next day. Oh, the shame of it. Killing body and soul. Men and women of East Liverpool, many of you are working hard for your loved ones at home, some for mother and father, some for wives and children, and God loves you very dearly, and just as sure as you accept him as your Savior, on a matter of principle and right, he will bless you in time and eternity. You'll never get real rest until Jesus gives it to you. Jesus says: 'It is my delight to help you.' I have found Jesus to be the friend of friends for 20 years. He has never deserted me. Listen, men; listen women; listen, boys and girls of our potteries to Jesus: 'Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.' May my God and your God bless every one of you, in my prayer.

MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS.

The Furnace Fire Clay Company Elect Officers.

The stockholders of the Furnace Fire Clay company, having their headquarters at Sallineville, met in this city last night and elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

George P. Ikirt, president; H. A. Thompson, treasurer; William Thompson, secretary; George P. Ikirt, J. B. Cameron, H. A. Thompson, William Thompson, J. S. McLean, A. S. Young and John W. Hall, directors.

TRADE WILL BE BETTER

When the Spring Season Opens, So Buyers of Ware Think.

Fleck Bros., extensive crockery dealers of New York city, are in the city placing orders for ware with a number of firms. They say that the present slump and apparent inactivity in the pottery trade is somewhat attributable to the rigor of the weather and the lateness of the opening of the spring trade. They say that in a few weeks a complete revival will take place and a decided impetus be given the pottery industry. It is earnestly hoped that this prediction will be verified.

QUEENA.

A Splendid Presentation of the Play at the Grand Last Night.

The DeHavens presented "Queena" last night to a good house. It was the story of a young American girl who was wooed and won by a young English lord, who, having her for a short time, is stricken with typhoid fever, loses his reason and is confined in a mad house for two years. He afterwards becomes blind and is taken home, where he receives the news of his young wife's death. During this time the young wife, thinking that she has been deserted, leaves home and her child is born unknown to her people, who suppose her dead. She goes to Paris as an opera singer, and while a guest of the American minister meets the man whom she has sworn to denounce and kill for making her life so blank and miserable. He is attracted by her voice, invites her to accept the hospitality of his London home during her stay in England, but his fiancée objects, through jealousy, and his father, the impoverished earl, seconds his prospective daughter-in-law's objections, not wishing to lose so rich a prize by antagonizing her. Tortured to madness the young wife discloses her identity, and through much suffering she is at last righted. Miss DeHaven played the leading role with power; in emotional parts she is splendid. F. A. Yelvington, as the blind Lord Huntington, was very good. G. H. Summers, as John Henry Wilkins, the American up to stuff and patentee of a new medicine, was very amusing. He was ably supported in the light parts of the play by Miss Louise Lee, as Florence Flecher, the girl who had matrimonial inclinations, but wanted ready cash with the man of her choice. The other members of the company were deserving of mention, but space forbids. The scenes were elegantly mounted. The company will present the four-act, rural comedy, "The Hoosier Heroine," tonight.

OVER THE BANK.

A Team of Horses Were Backed too Far and One Was Almost Drowned.

A team of horses owned by John Ringhart, and driven by Merion Poole, went over the river bank near Mountford's pottery yesterday afternoon. The horses were backed too close to the edge of the bank, and the earth gave way, precipitating horses and wagon into the river. The harness had to be cut to save one of the animals from drowning, and a great deal of labor was entailed in getting on the bank again.

Roof on Fire.

A house situated on an alley near the railroad, close to Washington street, was found to be on fire today about noon. The department was called out and the flames were extinguished with a few buckets of water. The fire started on the roof, and is supposed to have been caused by a spark from a passing locomotive. The house is owned by Mrs. Melinda Green, who lives in the lower part of the house, the upper story being occupied by J. M. Mason.

The Thief Discovered.

An employee in an up town resort has been held under suspicion for some time, and came near losing his position, on account of the antics of a big tomcat. For weeks the cash registers, when counted at the close of the day's business, showed a deficit of several dollars, and no clue could be had to explain the mysterious absence of the money. The proprietor, having great confidence in his employee, was mystified, and not until a few nights ago was the matter made clear. While alone in the place, after closing hours, the proprietor was startled to hear the click of the registers, followed by repeated clicks, like those of a novice upon the keys of a piano. Looking up, he found his pet cat playing upon the keys of the register and apparently enjoying the performance as much as if he were a feline Paderewski.—New York Journal.

Vindicated the Law.

A friend of Representative Culberson of Texas related the following incident: "When Mr. Culberson was prosecuting attorney," he said, "there was a criminal statute universally disregarded. The indictment of this law was secured through the efforts of Mr. Culberson, who prosecuted the case with more vigor than almost any he had ever conducted, succeeding in securing a conviction and sentence to the penitentiary. Then he left town, and no one knew where he had gone until he and the prisoner, who had been taken to the penitentiary, returned together. Mr. Culberson had gone to the governor, obtained a pardon, and met the convict at the penitentiary with it. The law had been vindicated, and there were no more violations of that statute in Jefferson."—Washington Star.

Not Enough Muses.

The unmusical manager who protested when he found a performer in his orchestra holding his bow during a rest, saying to him, "I don't pay you to rest!" was the same one who, on another occasion, was superintending the arrangement of some performers who were representing allegorical characters. "Here in front," said the author of the piece which was to be given, "we will put the nine muses."

"Nine muses!" exclaimed the great manager contemptuously. "Nine muses would look well in that great space, wouldn't they? We will have 36 muses!"—Youth's Companion.

Overdoing It.

"Now, I ascertain," said Miss Strong, "that there is no place filled by man which a woman cannot fill. Is that comprehensive enough?"

"It is very comprehensive," replied Mr. Northside, "but I am prepared to go still further in advocacy of woman's ability."

"Are you?"

"Yes, I am. On the seat of a street car, for instance, she can fill two men's places."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

A GREAT AWAKENING.

"I met a man at the pottery today, to whom I had been talking at the rink on a previous occasion, and I said to him today: 'Will you decide for God today?' Oh, the happiness of it, men, when he responded: 'I have decided for God, and, bless his holy name, he helps me,' and that noble fellow shook hands with me before the crowd. Trust him, men, for all things and at all times. I've trusted him for 20 years, and he has never left me, nor forsaken me.

"When Moody was in the old country he was accosted by a wealthy woman who was undecided, wanted Jesus, but was afraid she could not hold out faithful. Moody pulled out his watch and said: 'Suppose that watch would say that it couldn't run for 24 hours; that it would become weary and fail, and that therefore it would not start at all. Don't it run by the fraction of a second at a time? Don't it do its duty and go right along and keep good time? Just so in the service of God. Accept Jesus and trust in his mercy and power; accept him for the now, the living present, and he will see that you do not fail, if you trust him fully.' The lady cried out: 'I see it, Mr. Moody. I see the application. I will accept Jesus now. I decide for him, and I'll trust him all the way through.' When Moody reached his home in Northfield, he found a valuable and handsome clock awaiting him, telling him that all he had to do was to wind it and start it going and it would do its work, and remind him, as he listened to the ticking thereof, that Mrs. Clark was trusting the dear God, and would continue to trust him all the way through.

"Men, decide for Jesus tonight, and he will stand by you all the way through, in the office, at your business, in the pottery, in the glasshouse, all the way through, from earth to heaven.

"Why, men, every physician in Toronto has decided for Christ. Some were Christians, of course, before the meetings; but I understand that they are all Christians now. Praise the blessed Master for his mercy.

"Oh, men and women of East Liverpool, accept our Christ and trust him all the way through. Cry out in your extremity, with the weight of conviction upon you, 'I will trust him, I will trust him' and all will be well, for you have acted on principle and carried your resolve to determination. God bless you, one and all."

THE NOON MEETING.

The pottery employees, men and women, assembled in the rink today, services commencing promptly at 12 o'clock, song service prevailing, with Weeden leading the choir. It was a grand, good song of victory for Jesus, men and women joining in with full melody and power. Mrs. Ted. Brookes presided at the piano, with Mrs. Ida Watkins at the organ, while Stoddard made praise jubilant through the instrumentality of the cornet. Rev. Whitehead led in an eloquent, earnest, pathetic prayer, asking God's warmest blessings on the men and women, the boys and girls who work in our potteries, granting to them happiness here on earth and never ending bliss in heaven.

The quartette rendered "The bird with a broken pinion," and Rev. John Lloyd Lee led in prayer service, full of pathos and power, in the hands of the Master. Mr. Weeden and Mrs. Sloane rendered as a duet, "Come Unto Me, and I will give you rest."

"The 28th verse and 11th chapter of Matthew. 'Come unto me all ye that labor and heavy laden, and I will give you rest.' Who is inviting us? The blessed Christ. When Jesus was on earth, he was ever and always the warm friend and comforter of the toiler, struggling in life, those who stood in need of a helper. See how he cured the incurable leper. Then he gave the poor, unfortunate, miserable blind beggar his sight. See how he made happy and blessed the poor, lost woman. Look at him stopping the funeral cortege and raising to life the widow's son, possibly her only support, and sending her home rejoicing. See how he fed the hungry 5,000. Our blessed Christ was always engaged, when upon this earth, in doing good to the poor and needy. He did not come upon the earth to save the righteous, but to bring salvation to the poor sinner. This same blessed Jesus, your friend and my friend, is here today, on the same blessed mission as first brought Him to this earth. He is here to save, for time and eternity, with His wondrous message of 'Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden.'

"His message is to the weary ones—those who need rest. We value a gift, as a rule, by the character or popularity of the giver. What think ye then, men and women of East Liverpool, when this gift offered you is presented by the hand of Almighty God? Think of this, men and women, boys and girls of the potteries, God invited you here today. This is addressed, this blessed message, to all those who make their living by the sweat of their brows: 'All ye who labor and are heavy laden.' God worked among the laboring classes in this olden days, and He is working among them in the present day. I pray that the churches may get in closer union with the working men and women of today; they are the hope of the nation; capital cannot get along without them; capital and labor should work together, on a plane of friendship for one another; their interests are identical and inseparable.

"A saloonist met a working man of East Liverpool and said to him: 'We are not very busy just now.' Think of that, men and women, not very busy just now; oh, is that not glorious news—the infamous saloons are not as busy as they were; thank God for that. 'No, we are not busy just now, and I am putting down fine linoleum upon my floor, putting in some nice pictures and making the place a regular beauty; don't fail to come 'round and see us—you are always welcome.' The workman looked at him a moment and then said: 'Sy, I've been doing some pretty deep thinking of late over this matter, and I'll put down some new linoleum in my own home; put up a few nice pictures, also; and I may put in some furniture and carpets; and then the wife and babies will need a few things. I guess I'll be kept busy for a while, and I hope you'll excuse me. I really won't have time to call around and see you. Good day.'

"God bless you, men, if every workman in East Liverpool would take such a stand as did that noble fellow, the keepers of the infernal hell holes of this city would be compelled to shut up shop and go into some honorable and legitimate business.

"Said an employer of men to me the other day, in this city, pointing to one of his men: 'That lad is a splendid workman, and would be all right if he would leave liquor alone. I'll have to part with him, however, as he is becoming a wreck.' Oh, the shame of it, men, to thus prostitute God-given talents and noble manhood.

"Workmen and workwomen of East Liverpool, I love you and I love your souls. You need rest. With rest of mind comes rest of body, even when you are at your workbench. A man does his work in the day time, and visits the saloon and drinks at night, carrying on carousal until a late hour, and then wonders that he is so tired and weary the next day. Oh, the foolishness of such a life. A young woman dances in this nasty dance hall over the way until a late hour, after a hard day's work, and says she is utterly tired out during her toil at the bench the next day. Oh, the shame of it. Killing body and soul. Men and women of East Liverpool, many of you are working hard for your loved ones at home, some for mother and father, some for wives and children, and God loves you very dearly, and just as sure as you accept him as your Savior, on a matter of principle and right, he will bless you in time and eternity. You'll never get real rest until Jesus gives it to you. Jesus says: 'It is my delight to help you.' I have found Jesus to be the friend of friends for 20 years. He has never deserted me. Listen, men; listen women; listen, boys and girls of our potteries to Jesus: 'Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.' May my God and your God bless every one of you, is my prayer.

Overdoing It.

"Now, I maintain," said Miss Strong, "that there is no place filled by man which a woman cannot fill. Is that comprehensive enough?"

"It is very comprehensive," replied Mr. Northside, "but I am prepared to go still further in advocacy of woman's ability."

"Are you?"

"Yes, I am. On the seat of a street car, for instance, she can fill two men's places."—Pittsburgh Chronicle - Telegraph.

Mrs. Sanor's Father Dead.

Eli Thomas, the father of Mrs. S. D. Sanor, of Fourth street, died at his residence in Homeworth last night. Deceased leaves a wife and five children. Mrs. Sanor was present at her father's side when he passed away.

Chamberlain's Cough remedy gives the best satisfaction of any cough medicine I handle, and as a seller leads all other preparations in this market. I recommend it because it is the best medicine I ever handled for coughs, cold and croup. A. W. BALDRIDGE, Millersville, Ill. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druglist.

Raising Funds.

The Daughters of America and the Junior Mechanics will hold a social in the near future. The proceeds will go to the fund for the founding of the orphans home.

A Card.

We, the undersigned, desire to thank those who assisted us in our late campaign and respectfully ask that our friends stand by Alfred J. Johnson at the coming election.
